

About AIMH UK

AIMH brings together professionals, from many fields, who work with infants, young children and their families.

We:

- promote evidence-based practice through encouraging close links between clinical workers and researchers.
- Disseminate knowledge about the mental and emotional health of infants and young children through strategic discussions, workshops, conferences, Newsletters and our website.
- Provide information and sometimes direct support, to those campaigning for recognition and resources to meet the mental health needs of young children and their families.
